If time is worth money to you—you should be a subscriber for

THE DAILY TRAFFIC WORLD and TRAFFIC BULLETIN

Because the DAILY reduces to a minimum the valuable time between the taking of any action by the Commission, the Shipping Board Bureau, shippers or carriers, and the delivery of full information into your hands. That is why so many railroad, motor carrier, and industrial traffic men are regular DAILY subscribers.

They know they can depend on the DAILY to bring them first news of the decisions and proposed reports in which they have a special interest. They know it will keep them in touch with the hearings in important cases—just as if they had their own representative at the Commission, or Shipping Board Bureau, or at meetings elsewhere, to keep them posted.

They know too, that when they want a copy of a decision or report, or detailed information about any rate matter or proceeding, they can write or wire our Special Service Department—and get it quickly.

The DAILY service is the busy traffic man's right hand man. It is the ideal combination of a prompt, all-inclusive news service and a complete group of personal, intelligent traffic services. Ask any subscriber, and he will tell you that it takes the place of an expert traffic assistant at a fraction of the expense.

The cost is reasonable because it is spread over a large number of organizations whose service requests are "grouped" to minimize expense.

Ask us to place your name on the DAILY mailing list for two weeks, without obligation, and to send you complete information about the special services which are included with every subscription.

WATCHING SERVICE

A highly specialized service, the purpose of which is to advise the shipper promptly of rate changes and action of the Interstate Commerce Commission and Shipping Board Bureau of the Department of Commerce in all matters coming before those bodies in which he may have an interest. It is a comprehensive service, covering your traffic and, of equal importance, your competitors' traffic. Prompt advice in the above respects is essential to a maintenance of proper rate relationships, a matter of utmost importance to the shipper.

On advice as to your plant location, your inbound and outbound commodities, and, in general terms, their origin and destination, we keep you constantly informed on all matters that may affect the rates on which you ship.

All rate changes published in tariffs filed with the Commission and Shipping Board Bureau; complaints, petitions, and applications filed with the Commission and Shipping Board, including applications for publication of rates on short notice and petitions for suspension of rates, and the action of the Commission and Shipping Board Bureau thereon, are promptly reported. Supporting documents are forwarded without cost, except where a cash outlay is necessary.

The service is your insurance against losses that may result when you fail to receive a new tariff or supplement from the carriers; when rates are changed on short notice and you don't hear about the change in time; when the Commission suspends a reduced rate on which you ship or an increased rate on which a competitor ships; when you fail, through lack of knowledge of its publication, to petition the Commission or Shipping Board Bureau for the suspension of an unfavorable rate on which you ship, or one that unduly favors your competitors; if there is a transit service you have overlooked, or if transit privileges at any point are to be cancelled.

The service goes far beyond that ordinarily and usually available.

On your request we will (a) place your inquiry on our "docket" and advise you of any action taken by the Commission or parties in interest to any proceeding; (b) furnish any government document, including Congressional bills; (c) reproduce, or prepare a digest of, complaints, testimony, briefs, proposed reports, and decisions in proceedings before the Commission or Shipping Board Bureau when copies are not available; (d) interpret tariffs filed with the Commission or Shipping Board Bureau; (e) advise as to the liability of common carriers of goods; (f) analyze and digest decisions of the courts and Commission in carrier rate and regulatory matters; (g) act as your Washington contact representative. The only limita ion is that the amount of work involved shall not be too extensive.

It is a service you should not be without, and the cost is moderate.

Additional information about this service and the cost are yours without obligation if you will write to the

What Some of Our Clients Have to Say About Our Service

"BUSINESSLIKE MANNER"

Good business men like things done in a business way. That is why so many avail themselves of our "Watching" Service.

Manager,
Service Department,
The Traffic Service Corporation,
Washington, D. C.

Dear Sir·

Your "Watching" Service has unquestionably been of advantage to us, and our requests for information have been handled in a most businesslike and satisfactory manner.

With kindest regards, I am

Yours very truly,

CERTAIN-TEED PRODUCTS CORPORATION

(Signed) OSBORN VAN BRUNT,
General Traffic Manager.

"PUBLISHED NEWS"

Our publications, the Traffic World and Traffic Bulletin, are the recognized traffic and transportation authorities — Our "Watching" Service adds to their value.

Manager, Service Dept.,
The Traffic Service Corporation,
Washington, D. C.

Dear Sir:

Equipped as we were with The Traffic World, The Traffic Bulletin, a number of separate sources of information and memberships in several traffic associations, there was at first some question as to whether we needed the "Watching" Service which you conduct.

After an experience of three or four years it is a pleasure to say that we did need it and that the service deserves continued favorable comment, both from the standpoint of its completeness and because of the clarity of the information.

The service releases the time of a high salaried employee which would otherwise be spent in reading and searching for information and is, on the whole, a little more of a guarantee that nothing will escape our attention than was the previous method.

Cordially yours,

LEVER BROTHERS COMPANY

"DURING AN ABSENCE"

Our client gets in a concise form only what interests him and it is cumulative during an absence from his office.

Manager, Special Service Dept.,
The Traffic Service Corporation,
Washington, D. C.

Dear Sir:

One especially valuable feature of this service is that it puts before the subscriber, in a condensed form, the many changes in which he is interested, and if conditions require the subscriber's absence from his office, the "Watching" Service affords a quick method of becoming acquainted with all changes which may have occurred during that absence.

Yours very truly,

THE RED STAR MILLING CO.

What One of Our Clients Says

Manager, Service Dept.,
The Traffic Service Corporation,
Washington, D. C.

Dear Sir:

It affords me great pleasure to state that we highly value the excellent service you have rendered us in the past and which you continue to do.

In view of the many items of legislation now pending, the constant changes taking place in the matter of freight rates, etc., I firmly believe your service should prove very valuable to both railroads and shippers. Your service insures for interested parties, information in advance of any other available means, and this is so very essential to the successful determination of many every day problems.

Yours very truly,

THE GULF COMPANIES
